

Supervisors Meet And Re-apportion Highway Moneys

Amount Made Necessary by Receipt of $132,221 More From Motor Vehicle Fees Than Was Anticipated When Original Apportionment Was Made.

The city board of supervisors held a special meeting at the city hall Friday night for the purpose of re-apportioning moneys received from motor vehicle fees, moneys appropriated by the state and moneys appropriated by the county for road construction within the city, and for the transaction of other business.

Re-apportionment of such moneys was necessary because the amount received from motor vehicle fees was $132,221 more than the amount anticipated from such source at the time the apportionment of moneys was made originally.

The amounts available for road construction are: $55,440 appropriated by the state, $55,440 appropriated by the county, $55,734.53 received from motor vehicle fees and the further sum of $38,385.47 hereafter appropriated by the board of supervisors for the construction of county roads within the city.

The amount of motor vehicle fees was reported by County Treasurer Thomas, and a resolution was offered by Supervisors Avery, Dunsberger and Young apportioning the amounts received from the three separate sources mentioned, as follows:

Road 1. Denning, fees, $500; state, $1,000; county, $1,000.
Road 2. Denning, fees, $500; state, $1,000; county, $1,000.
Road 3. Esopus, fees, $2,000; state, $4,000; county, $4,000.

Kingston Airways To Have Air Route

Intends to Establish Week-End Service Between Kingston and New York, N. Y.—Has Taken Over Properties on Sunnyside Road.

The Kingston Airways, the concern which did considerable flying from the Kingston airport last year, has returned to Kingston and will have two or three planes at the field for the remainder of the season, depending upon the business which is to be done. Sponsored by the Kingston Airways there will be a parachute jump Sunday by Eric Lindgren who has already made several jumps here this season as well as numerous jumps last year. Mr. Lindgren intends being with the Kingston Airways this season and make jumps every week end, weather permitting.

Mr. Lindgren has just returned from several months spent in the south where he filled many engagements and also attended the automobile race at Daytona Beach. Within a week or two he expects to have a new chute of the latest type. For some time he has been using one of the Irving chutes but will shortly use one of the newest types. During the summer season he will attend various air meets and compete for prizes which are offered at these meets, returning to Kingston for jumps over the week end.

The Kingston Airways has taken over the Walker lot, consisting of 15 acres bordering on the Sunnyside road, and they are also using the Powell and Williams lot for flights. Later the company intends to start a week-end air route from Kingston to the Newark airport for the carrying of passengers who desire to spend the week end in this vicinity and return Monday morning to the city in time for business. Since coming to Kingston last August the Kingston Airways has created a great deal of local interest in aviation.

A hangar will be erected within a short time by Mr. Walker on his property and this will be in charge of the Kingston Airways, according to an announcement made by a member of that company. With the Walker property of 15 acres and the Powell and Williams properties, consisting of 22 acres, Kingston has an ideal airport for practically all kinds of ships. Pilot Harper Mollineaux, who was with the Kingston Airways last year, is back again this season to fly their ships. It is the intention of the Kingston Airways to form a corporation shortly for the promotion of aviation in this locality.

Killed in Ohio Air Maneuvers

Two Planes in National Army Air Maneuvers Crashed at Altitude of 15,000 Feet—One Pilot Uses Parachute Successfully.

Columbus, Ohio, May 18 (AP).—One man was killed and another slightly injured here today when two planes which they were piloting in the national army air maneuvers crashed over a north side residential district and fell in flames. The dead man was Lieut. E. L. Meadows, of the 95th Pursuit Squadron from Rockwell Field, San Diego, California. He died when his ship crashed.

The second man is Lieut. Fred Salter, Los Angeles, Cal., attached to the 95th Pursuit Squadron. He jumped with a parachute and landed in a ravine, suffering only burns about the face.

The crash occurred at an altitude of approximately 15,000 feet. Both pilots attempted to use the parachutes. Lieut. Salter was successful, but Sergeant Meadows' chute caught in the undercarriage of his plane and he was dragged to the ground with the flames from the burning ship whipping about him. As he neared the ground he swung under the ship which landed on top of him.

The ship came down in the rear of a residence and set fire to a garage.

At a doctor's office, Lieut. Salter gave his explanation of the accident, which was the first to mar the army maneuvers which have been in progress four days.

"I was with the 95th Pursuit Squadron, carrying out an attack on Norton Field. There were seven ships in my formation. Suddenly we saw a dozen red planes beneath us and hopped on them for the attack."

"Without warning one of the red ships crashed into the undercarriage of my ship. I was thrown against the dash by the impact, but quickly recovered control of my ship. Then I discovered that my gas tank had been punctured and that the ship was aflame. I made my get-away as quickly as possible and jumped."

The Ninety-fifth Pursuit Squadron was a part of the Blue Army, staging a theoretical attack on the area held by the Red defending army with headquarters at Norton Field here.

Vets Deny Pact With Legion

To the Editor of The Freeman.

Sir.—In response to Edward J. Hillis of the American Legion Poppy Committee, Joyce-Schirick Post, No. 1386, V. F. W., wishes to explain to the citizens of Kingston and vicinity, through the columns of your paper, the exact situation regarding the sale of the "Buddy Poppy."

First of all, the "Buddy Poppy" sold by the Veterans of Foreign Wars is the original and in fact only poppy which should be on sale on any day. It was adopted by the V. F. W. as their official flower and sold, that disabled veterans might have a means of support and that relief moneys might be available to take care of veterans and their families in distress.

Also to support the V. F. W. National Home in Eaton Rapids, Mich., where orphans and widows of the men of your country who gave their lives for your country might have a home amid pleasant surroundings and not be compelled to become a public charge. This home is supported exclusively by the V. F. W. and costs the government or people nothing.

At this time it is also well to remember that with the exception of Kingston Post, American Legion, very few American Legion posts throughout the country sell poppies as they realize that actually they belong to the V. F. W.

If you have any doubt as to who should sell poppies read President Herbert Hoover's endorsement of the "Buddy Poppy" sold by the V. F. W. Numerous clubs throughout the country have endorsed the "Buddy Poppy" sale. They are too numerous to mention here but we will add the American Federation of Labor has wholeheartedly endorsed our campaign.

It is unfortunate the Joyce-Schirick Post has offended the American Legion Post in this city. But, in former years the V. F. W. have given them the cream of the poppy campaign regardless of the fact that the sale belongs rightfully to us. We have been content to live and let live and were willing to continue to do so until we have been unjustly accused of breaking faith.

Every preceding year we have had agreements not to sell poppies until the designated day and have found out on that day that the town has been secretly canvassed by the American Legion. Therefore we made no agreement this year, intending for once to have an even break and sell our poppies undisturbed. You have seen what has happened.

Furthermore in spite of the assertions made by Mr. Hillis, American Legion poppies were observed on the street yesterday, Friday. Draw your own conclusions.

In closing, I would like to state that the V. F. W. was not organized a few years ago as Mr. Hillis states. It was founded thirty years ago by soldiers, sailors and marines, who fought on foreign soil for the flag of our country.

It is a nation-wide organization and the fact that our membership is not as large as another is easily understood when one realizes that only men who fought on foreign soil are eligible.

We very much regret that this has come about, but we must stand up for our rights, and the letter of Mr. Hillis could not go unanswered. ISAAC B. TROWBRIDGE, Chairman Buddy Poppy Committee.

DAVIS EXPECTED TO LEAVE SOON FOR FILIPINO POST.

Washington, May 18 (AP).—Dwight F. Davis, of St. Louis, secretary of war in the Coolidge cabinet, is to be the next governor general of the Philippines in succession to Henry L. Stimson, now secretary of state.

In compliance with the administration's desire to have the new governor general in office before the Filipino legislature meets July 16, Davis is expected to leave as soon as possible for Manila.

Announcement of his acceptance of the appointment brought a prompt expression of approval from the Philippine delegation here in the interest of the islands during the congressional consideration of tariff revision.

LORENZO BARLEY WEPT AS SENTENCE WAS IMPOSED.

Lorenzo Barley of the town of Olive, who was arrested Thursday on a charge of public intoxication, was fined $5 in police court Friday morning and promised Judge Shufeldt that he would return home, but that evening he was found intoxicated on Orchard street. This morning Judge Shufeldt sentenced him to ten days in the county jail. Barley wept bitterly for a jail sentence was far from his liking. Later, after Barley had been given an opportunity of having the jail sentence imposed itself upon his mind, he was brought back and the serving of the sentence was suspended, provided he returned to the town of Olive during the day.

Cigarettes May Have Been Cause of Hospital Horror

Cleveland Officials Learn They Were Smoked Near Film Storage Room, and Steel Fire Door Was Not Closed—Hospital Had Been Warned of Danger.

Cleveland, May 18 (AP).—Investigation into the Cleveland clinic fire which caused the deaths of 122 persons from gas generated by blazing X-ray films, went forward today with information that cigarettes were smoked near the film storage room and that the clinic had been warned of the danger.

These facts had been uncovered in testimony before an inquest conducted by Coroner A. J. Pearce and County Prosecutor Ray T. Miller, newspapermen were told. The inquiry was held behind closed doors.

Mrs. Rose Reber, charwoman at the clinic, testified that men frequently smoked cigarettes in the basement near the room where the film was stored, and that she never had seen the steel fire door closed.

A report of the Ohio inspection bureau warning the clinic to safeguard the building by removing the film was read into the record, Pearce admitted after the hearing was closed.

Pearce, with Miller, declared their inquiry was "not a blame fixing affair" but an attempt "to determine exactly what happened."

The inspection report was filed with clinic officials some time ago, Pearce said, together with recommendations that the film be stored in a separate building. Pearce said he "believed" the report mentioned the desirability of sprinklers and ventilation, but added he was not certain.

Death List Reduced to 122.

Officials of the clinic today announced that the death list to date included 122 names. Fifty persons were in hospitals. They said the number of dead was reduced after they reported they were unable to find three of the reported victims, all of Cleveland.

Ben Jones, 30, professional football player, was the last to die. He had undergone an operation for the removal of tonsils when the blast came. Clinging to a window sill, he was rescued by firemen and then drove to his home at Grove City, Pa., apparently unhurt. But the brown gas had filled his blood with poison and, unknown, he had been dying slowly from the time of the explosion.

Although Mount Sinai Hospital sent airplanes to Toledo for supplies of oxygen, the Cleveland sources being exhausted, clinic physicians said the injured had improved chances of recovery today. They reported "great improvements" in the more serious cases.

Mayor John D. Marshall issued a proclamation setting today aside as the official day of mourning. Several funerals were held yesterday. Thirty-six burials were announced for today.

ELIMINATING GRADE CROSSING AT GRAND GORGE.

Preliminary work has begun on the elimination of the Ulster & Delaware railroad grade crossing on the Stamford-Grand Gorge highway, one and one-half miles west of the Grand Gorge railroad station. The crossing will be eliminated by closing the present grade crossing and diverting traffic over a new highway on the west side of the railroad. This highway will extend to the present schoolhouse road. The new highway will be graded to a width of 20 feet. A surface of gravel, six inches thick, will be laid to a width of 12 feet. The railroad will do all the work by direct employment of labor and purchase of materials. The state will station an inspector on the job to check the work.

HENRY MOWER FELL THROUGH SHOW CASE IN STORE FRIDAY.

Henry Mower, who resides downtown, was arrested for public intoxication Friday evening. He had entered the Schryver store at the corner of Smith avenue and Cornell street and fallen through one of the show cases. He was sentenced to ten days in the county jail this morning in police court, but the serving of the sentence was suspended provided he made good the damage to the show case, which amounted to $10. Mower made restitution for the damage.

MAYOR DEMPSEY AND LOCAL POLICE ARE IN NEW YORK.

Mayor E. J. Dempsey and Police-men Peter Kerensman and William Hess are in New York city today as the guests of the New York police department, attending the annual parade and review this afternoon on Fifth avenue. This evening they expect to attend the annual banquet at the Hotel Roosevelt.

Final Hearing On Tariff Changes

Disagreements on Farm Relief Side-tracked Temporarily at Washington—House Committee Smoothing Out Differences in Republican Ranks.

Washington, May 18 (AP).—Tariff suggestions had right of way at the capitol today, with both branches of congress in adjournment and only the house ways and means committee Republicans meeting for a final hearing on appeals from members of their party for changes in the schedules they have recommended.

Disagreements over farm relief were sidetracked temporarily, but will be revived Monday by the initial meeting of the senate and house committees charged with arbitrating the differences between the two chambers on the export debenture section and other points of difference in the bills they passed.

Of the ten members of the conference group, only two senators are on record as favoring the debenture proposal as part of the farm bill, and administration leaders are confident that this bitterly contested part of the senate measure will be eliminated. With other sections also in dispute, however, it is expected to make the negotiations somewhat lengthy.

Although the house ways and means committee announced that today's meeting would be the last to hear complaints against their decisions in the tariff bill, they expect to meet again Monday and Tuesday to decide what changes they will introduce as committee amendments. Their work thus far has given promise of smoothing out difficulties in the Republican ranks which have stood in the way of agreement on a special rule to limit the offering of amendments on the floor by giving privileged status to those emanating from the committee.

An early agreement on such a rule is now expected and the bill is likely to be taken up for amendment after Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the general debate before the week-end adjournment centered chiefly on the sharply contested proposal for an increase in sugar duties, which were described as "unjustifiable and indefensible" in a letter from William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, to Representative Fear, Republican, Wisconsin, which was read in to the record by Representative Ruth Baker Pratt, Republican, New York. They were defended by Representative Eaton, Republican, Colorado.

NEWSPAPER MEN, OPEN THE CATSKILL SEASON.

The New York Newspaper Men's Association, sponsored by The World, will make its annual spring trip to the Catskills on May 20. This is the twenty-third event of this nature in as many years and promises on this occasion to be unusually well attended by members of the New York press.

The party will leave New York on the steamer John Snyder of the Saugerties night line Monday night, arriving in Saugerties on Tuesday morning. After breakfast at the Maxwell House, a fleet of autos will take the party to Pine Hill Arms, where the Pine Hill Hotel Association have arranged a luncheon. The afternoon journey will be through the wild beauty of the Clove Notch to Tannersville, where the Chamber of Commerce will be host at a banquet and evening's entertainment at the Indian Head Hotel. The association will be guests of the Tannersville Chamber of Commerce until the following day when they will leave for New York by the steamer Alexander Hamilton.

PRESIDENT HOOVER ON WEEK-END FISHING TRIP.

Washington, May 18 (AP).—President Hoover left the White House shortly before 10:30 today bound for his fishing preserve near Madison, Va.

The President's guests for the trip were Secretary Wilbur of the Interior Department, and Edward Lowrie, a political writer.

Besides, Mr. Hoover was accompanied by his secretary, Lawrence Richey, and his personal physician, Lieutenant Commander Joe T. Boone. Mrs. Hoover did not go.

Preparations were made for an overnight stay at the fishing preserve, which lies in the foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains along the upper waters of the Rapidan river.

A small village of tents had been erected in anticipation of the President's coming, but whether he would return to the national capital tonight or stay over until tomorrow had not been determined at the time the party left the White House.

Graf Zeppelin Safe, Germans Charge Sabotage

Giant Air Liner in Hangar at Cuers, France—Only One Motor Working When Ship Finally Landed—Director of Airplane Works at Friedrichshafen Openly Charges Sabotage Was Responsible for Motors' Failure.

Cuers, France, May 18 (AP).—The German Graf Zeppelin, saved by its master, Dr. Hugo Eckener, from catastrophe in a perilous 28-hour flight, reposited today in a French hangar that from which only five years ago the ill-fated French dirigible Dixmude went forth on its disastrous Mediterranean trip.

After hours of manœuvring yesterday in which it seemed the air liner would be blown to sea or into the foothills of the Alps, the Graf Zeppelin arrived over the Naval Air Field here and was pulled to earth and safety at 8:35 p. m. (2:35 p. m. E. S. T.).

Four of its five motors were not working, their crankshafts having been broken, and the lone fifth engine had proved utterly incapable of combating the violent mistral, or cold northwest wind, which forced abandonment of the attempt to return to Friedrichshafen.

The passengers and members of the crew seemed little the worse for their trying experience, which began late Thursday when failure of the motors off the coast of Spain thwarted an attempted crossing of the Atlantic to Lakehurst, N. J. "Susi," the female gorilla which was part of the cargo, was affected most of all.

Never Had Such a Difficult Trip.

A single sentence of Dr. Eckener's was eloquent testimonial to the rigors of the ordeal: "Never have I had such a difficult trip," the commander said with a sigh of relief. After thanking the French navy for the help given him in saving his ship, he pleaded fatigue as excuse for saying nothing more and retired.

The presumption was that the dirigible would have its motors replaced and complete the transatlantic journey, either to Cuers or after a return to Friedrichshafen. Some of the passengers, far from discouraged by their experience, announced that they would not cancel their booking but would fly with the Zeppelin if and when she again starts for the United States.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

New York—Edward W. Brown, husband of "Pearl" Brown, announced he will sell $500,000 worth of real estate at auction in Madison Square Garden July 11. As explained by a friend, he proposes to establish a foundation to build playgrounds and supply children's hospitals with toys so that they will remember a hospital as a place of pleasure rather than of pain.

Rome—Benito Mussolini has been bitten by the golf bug to the extent of watching some experts from the U. S. A. with Irish and Italian blood in them play the game. He attended a match in which Johnny Farrell and Gene Sarazen took part. The duce shot some at Gene and wagged a club.

New York—The American says Colonel Lindbergh has his wedding outfit; and that it cost $1,200. It includes evening clothes and tuxedo, cutaway, four street suits and a black overcoat.

Moortown, England—Walter Hazen is a member of five golf clubs in the United States, where he has won the open title twice and of one club in Great Britain, where he has taken the blue ribbon four times. He has just been elected an honorary life member of the Moortown Golf Club.

New York—After a survey of girls in business Miss Lillian Lock of Columbia University has concluded that good clothes, especially stockings, are necessary in order to get a good job. "personality," said her report, "is counting more and more in business and clothes, including stockings that give a shapely appearance to the legs, are important because of the way they affect the wearer and her business associates."

Jersey City, N. J.—Mrs. Nellie Ellaby Doyle, 68, who was left fairly well off by the death of her fourth husband, is to take as her sixth Fred Fox, a traveling salesman of Miami. Last year she divorced her fifth, Jimmy Doyle, who was a 25-year-old soda clerk and boarder at her home when they married.

New York—Adolph Hawerlander, German chemist, has a machine for making wood out of rubbish. At a demonstration in his laboratory he put such things as corn stalks and excelsior in a revolving drum and sprayed it with a chemical under pressure. Then the waste was pressed under heat. The result was lumber veneered as desired. The inventor says his product is cheap, strong and more fireproof and waterproof than natural lumber.

New York—Now comes the talkie-typewriter. Robert M. Werblow, secretary of the Polygraphic Corporation, is working on a machine which produces on film in desired type fonts of copy that is read into it letter by letter. From the assembled pieces of film zinc plates are made.

VEGETABLE THROWN INTO BRITISH ELECTION ARENA

By Edmund T. Lippoy, Jr.
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)
London, May 18 (AP).—Fortunes of war in the British general election campaign have advertised a humble vegetable, the broccoli, a winter cauliflower with an Italian name.

It was tossed into the political arena by Stanley Baldwin, the prime minister, in his keynote speech for the conservative party. Since that moment the prize product of Cornish gardeners has been hurled hither and yon in a fine fury of de-

If you are considering the purchase of an automobile, you owe it to yourself to learn the true extent of Chevrolet's value leadership.
And all you need to do is check the new Chevrolet Six against any other car—value for value and price for price!

Here, in the price range of the four, is offered a smooth, powerful, six-cylinder valve-in-head motor—which delivers better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline—and whose smooth, quiet, velvety operation, with its complete lack of drumming and vibration, is a revelation—even to those who are accustomed to driving high-priced automobiles. Here are beautiful bodies by Fisher. Here, in all closed models, are fittings by Tarnstedt... rich, deep-tufted upholsteries... adjustable driver's seat... and a completely-equipped instrument panel. And throughout the entire chassis are found numerous examples of advanced engineering—such as quiet, non-locking 4-wheel brakes... ball bearing steering mechanism... automatic acceleration pump
... and chromium plating on all bright metal.

But no mere recital of features can give you any conception of Chevrolet's value leadership. So we urge you to come in and see for yourself why over 500,000 people have chosen the new Chevrolet Six since January 1st!

COMPARE the delivered price as well as the list price in considering automobile values. Chevrolet's delivered prices include only reasonable charges for delivery and financing.

From Earth to Sun
The distance between the earth and sun varies from something more than 91,000,000 miles to something more than 94,000,000. The mean distance is calculated to be about 92,000,000. The earth is nearest the sun in early January and farthest away in early July. That the distance has nothing to do with the seasons may be seen from the fact that while it is winter in the northern hemisphere, it is summer in the southern. The real reason for the seasonal changes is the fact that the earth's axis is at an angle (23½ degrees) with relation to its path around the sun. At that season of the year when our northern hemisphere is tilted toward the sun, its rays fall more directly upon us, and we have summer.

Miss Florence A. Ploetz of Ellipticville has been elected president of the Women's Student Government at Alfred University, succeeding Miss Mary K. Rogers of Daytona Beach, Fla.
A James Coe of Jamestown will succeed Dighton G. Burdick of Alfred as president of the Student Y. M. C. A. at the university.

It's not so bad to be dumb, but it's a great mistake to be dumb and try to appear smart. That's when it is discovered how dumb we are.

Church And School Notes

(By The Associated Press.)
Albany, N. Y., May 15 (AP)—Miss Harriette J. Mills of Akron, N. Y., and Clarence S. Atwood of Danville have been elected to head the management of the two student publications at Alfred University. Miss Mills will succeed H. Warner Waid of Elmira as editor of Flat Lux, while Mr. Atwood will take the place of John F. Hambl of Brookline as editor of the 1921 Kanakadea, student year book.

Rudolph Eller of Buffalo is business manager and James W. Sadler of Elmira, managing editor of Flat Lux, and Raymond V. Tompkins of Herne is business manager of Kanakadea.

Student essays and examination papers stored for the past half century in Anderson Hall on the campus of the University of Rochester will be brought to light when the building is remodelled this summer.

The building, which formed the center of the old campus group, was built in 1861. With the removal of the Men's College to the new campus at Oak Hill next year, Anderson Hall, remodelled and renovated, will be used by the Women's College.

A new roof, fireproof stairs and a new entrance are included in the plans for remodeling.
Anderson Hall has been for many years not only the official center of university life, containing the administration offices and professors' rooms, but the pivot around which student tradition revolved. Freshmen were denied the use of the stairs on the right side of the entrance, the front entrance, and similar conveniences. Countless "flat battles" took place in its basement and on the roof.

The building was erected in honor of Dr. Martin Brewer Anderson, first president of the university, at a cost of $38,000 on what was then the farm of Azariah Boody. Part of the later campus was a cornfield in those days, but the entire plot subsequently was donated to the college.

A million dollar building program involving construction of new buildings and remodeling of present structures will be started soon at Hobart College. Final plans have been drafted and approved by the committee on grounds and buildings, headed by Henry Lawrence de Zeng of Geneva.

The new program will complete and modernize the college plant, already valued at approximately $1,300,000, and enable the college to cope adequately for its increased enrollment under modern educational conditions.

To meet the first and most acute need, a new science building will be erected at a cost of $450,000. This will parallel Cox Hall, facing Trinity, Geneva and Merritt Halls and filling in the west side of the quadrangle. In its Tudor style and structure of hard-burned brick and Indiana limestone it will conform with Cox and Medbury Halls. The present science laboratories are serving twice as many students as they were intended to accommodate, according to the faculty, and the physics and chemistry departments are housed in old buildings never intended to be used for science work.

A new library building, to cost $300,000, will parallel Cox Hall. Hobart has one of the largest and most valuable book collections of any college of its size, but the stack space is said to be wholly inadequate, and the present library building has less than one-half the seating space found in other colleges.

The plans call also for the erection of a new gymnasium at a cost of $120,000 for William Smith College, the women's college of Hobart. The present gymnasium, a converted barn, is said to be wholly inadequate for the needs of the women students.

The present library building, ecclesiastical in design, will be remodelled at a cost of $20,000 to be used as a chapel. The present chapel was intended to accommodate 225 worshippers but the average daily attendance is 250 besides members of the faculty.

Geneva Hall, the oldest men's dormitory on the campus, will be remodelled and modernized at a cost of $40,000. This hall was the first of the Hobart College buildings erected, 110 years ago, when the school was known as Geneva College.

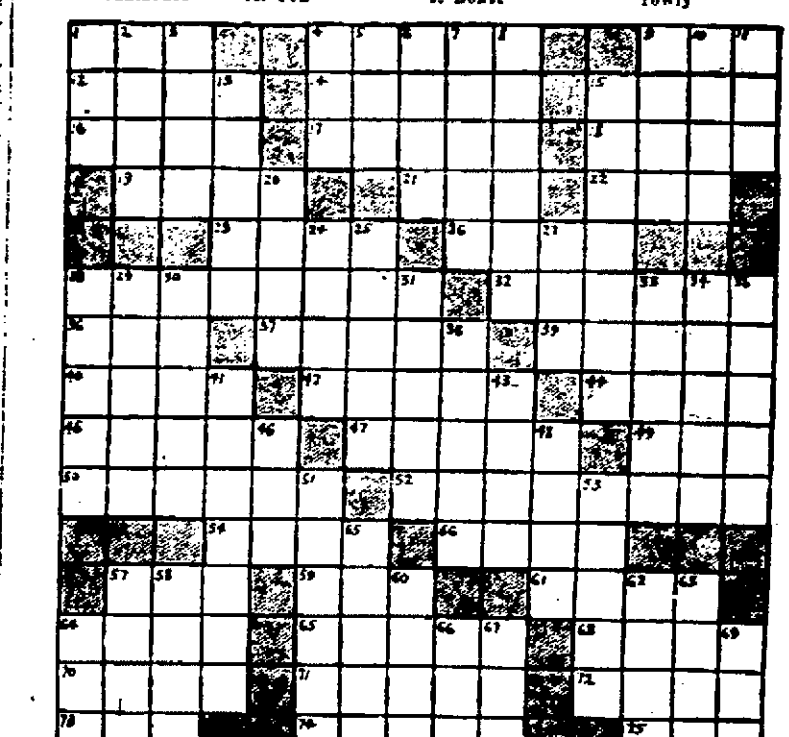

Renovation of Williams Memorial gymnasium, constructed in 1907, will cost $15,000, it is estimated, while Medbury Hall, the largest men's dormitory, will be modernized with an expenditure of $25,000.

A $100,000 field house is planned to give Hobart a regulation basketball court, with indoor cages for lacrosse, baseball and football practice in bad weather. Remodeling of Merritt Hall, at the proposed new entrance to the campus, is expected to cost $20,000, and the remodelled building will be used to house executive officers.

JONES LAW LIKE

When Congress passed the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act and now lately the Jones Law, it gave power to clergymen over the lives and property of their fellow-creatures. They can use the secular arm to carry out their judgments, just as the Inquisition could and did, says Edward S. Martin in the current Harpers Magazine. The Federal prisons are crammed today with persons convicted for the violation of these laws imposed on us chiefly at the instigation of the Methodist and Baptist clergy. Prohibition, as we see it, is the product of the Baptist and Methodist Churches. Even Doctor Foodick supports it for the Baptists; and for the Methodists there are thousands of clergymen including bishops, shouting hymns, preaching sermons, and carrying fagots for the executioners.

This is really an appalling situation. Nobody is going to start an armed rebellion about it, but we may see all the means employed by which minorities resist oppression. Hunger strikes have done something in some cases. We may see hunger strikes. It is curious that when a great evil has to be overcome it often happens—one may say it usually happens—that someone has to die to do it. Jones, of Washington, seems to be a reputable man, but think of him as making laws about drinking for the state of New York! The cure of the predicament in which prohibition has put the country seems to be the substitution of mild and comparative lively wholesome drinks for spirits poisoned or otherwise. The United States can produce very good wine in any quantity for which there is a market, also beer. It can probably regulate the sales of both so far as is expedient. Presumably that is what we shall come to in the end, but what these zealous fanatics will succeed in doing to us meanwhile is something no one can foretell.

CITY TREASURER'S OFFICE

Special Assessment.
Notice is hereby given that I have received the warrant for collection of the special assessment of 75 per cent of the expense incurred in the construction of a permanent pavement in Derrenbacher Street, beginning at Foxhall Avenue and extending thence through Derrenbacher Street to the intersection of Farrelly Street, a distance of 300 feet.

The same has been left with me for collection at my office in the City Hall, in said City; that for thirty days from the date of this notice the said assessment may be paid without additional fees or charges, and that for the twenty succeeding days two per centum additional will be collected. If any of the said special assessment shall remain unpaid at the time last mentioned, I shall give a written or printed notice to the person or persons against whom such assessment stands charged requiring them to pay such unpaid assessment to me at my office within thirty days thereafter, with five per centum fees thereon and one dollar for such notice as required by the City Charter.

Dated at the Treasurer's Office, City of Kingston, N. Y., May 11, 1929.

ITALY MAY CONSCRIPT WOMEN FOR WAR WORK.

By ANDRUE BERLING
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

Rome, May 18 (AP).—Women will play an important role in Italy's next war, to judge from reports published by the government committee on civil mobilization.

Prof. Vittorio Franchini has written an elaborate summary of the work of Italian women in the last war, giving exhaustive analyses of conditions, which leads to the belief that in the next war women will be mobilized for factories in the same manner as men are mobilized for the trenches.

Professor Franchini concludes that men should be released in wartime from the manufacture of small arms, projectiles and instruments of precision, and that women, either volunteers or gathered in through a system of conscription, should take their places.

Italian women, always accustomed to observing their place in the home and appearing in public as little as possible, were thoroughly aroused from this tradition by the World War. The committee figures show that in the first six months of the great conflict, only 14,000 Italian women were working in war industries. When peace came this number had jumped to 200,000 and there were many more thousands taking the places of men in other industries.

The report of the mobilization committee tells an interesting story of the development of women's work during the war. The story comes under three periods. The first was a period of propaganda. Women were taught to support their families, rendered fatherless by mobilization, working in the factories. This was the hardest task of all, to teach Italian women that after all these centuries their place was really not the home—during war.

The second period was marked by the government's work in stabilizing the place of women in industry, economic, hygienic and moral laws to eliminate every possible social danger arising from the transfer of women to the factory.

The last period, says the report, was that of the new system in full operation, with hundreds of thousands of women working contented under conditions which would not damage their health or morality and with government inspection watching the factories to see that these conditions were maintained.

The report shows that the country contributed many more women for wartime industries than the cities. Countrywomen not only were more used to hard work, but the factories offered them a chance of earning more than they would in other ways.

First Impression Counts

Never before has there been offered such big car comfort at such a low price. Longer wheelbase and larger bodies give the new Superior Whippet—Fours and Sixes—the roominess of costlier cars. The form-fitting seats are broader and heavily upholstered, enabling passengers to enjoy restful, relaxed positions at all times. Exceptionally wide doors afford easy entrance

No other low-priced car has all these vital advantages: Full force-feed lubrication, silent timing chain, "Finger-Tip Control," oversize balloon tires, invar-strut pistons, extra big four-wheel brakes, higher compression engine giving more speed, pick-up and power—and, in the Six, a heavy seven-bearing crank-

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

The Black Gown for Summer Evening Must Be Shown.

New York.—The black gown, to be correct for summer evening, must be shown. This is the color of the smart world everywhere. The black frock for day wear may be of crepe, but it has the advantage of being relieved by lighter touches, this being one of the outstanding features of the year.

One's choice in black is no longer limited to the simple. There are changes in pleats, but not more higher praise, while a ruche is not to be forgotten when selecting fabrics.

Since Chanel took to tailoring not lower lights have followed suit. Molded, low bodices are sometimes tucked horizontally, and waistlines in other cases are padded or shirred at whatever level is desired.

A Black Net Gown Introduces Tucking on Its Bodice and Gives Irregular Length to the Skirt by Panels, Gathered and Finished in Flounce Effect.

(Copyright, 1929, by Fairchild.)

That chemise or camisole necklines are being revived, is welcome news to many women. Shoulder straps in these instances may be as narrow as is possible, Chanel's use of silk cord being widely copied. Asymmetric necklines are also favored, while of course the cut front, and daringly cut back décolletage are still widely sponsored.

Net gowns, like any others, may be uneven in length, but they may also offer something of a surprise, being as straight as a circular cut skirt will permit. In order to keep the bouffant skirt in position, the full underskirt may be banded with hair braid, this when thinly veiled having the effect of lace.

The Thinking Pose

Some say that holding oneself erect induces pleasant thoughts, that a slouching deportment breeds evil thoughts, and sitting down means third-rate thinking.

Longest Concrete Bridge

The bridge crossing the Seine at St. Pierre du Vauvray, France, is built of concrete. From end to end the span is 482 feet—the longest bridge of the kind in the world.

Use Flour Bag to Make This Handy "Housewife"

A "husk" in case you don't know, is the way they pronounce housewife in certain parts of the English countryside, and it refers to this handy sewing outfit shown here. Originally the mistress wore it hanging from her waist, along with her reticule and bunch of keys, but for many years its exclusive home has been the kitchen.

The basis of the housewife is a small pin cushion made out of a bit of flour bag material and filled with bran. Equip this with pins, safety pins and a few needles, including a heavy one for sewing, pom-pom.

Sew a small ring at one corner. From the other three corners hang short ribbons or tapes, to which are attached scissors, celluloid thimble in Convenience for Kitchen is Made of Used Flour Bag.

A little case, and two spools of thread, kept on by a button sewn at the bottom.

The usefulness of this little kit in the kitchen will be proved many times over. Its simplicity makes it a good gift for children to make. This is only one of the many pretty and useful things that can be made from flour bags bought from the baker or which come into the home. Remove the stamping with javelle water or by covering it with lard or kerosene for a few hours and then washing in warm water. The material can be easily dyed if desired.

On Rearing Children from CRIM to COLLEGE

Compiled by the Editors of "CHILDREN," The Magazine for PARENTS

A fear-ridden personality is doomed to baseness and failure. Don't make your child afraid. Daily, children are brought to psychiatrists, suffering from a fear or guilt born of parents' threats.

Economic security is among the most difficult things for persons of small and moderate income to achieve under the present industrial organization. But the family can at least take the first step towards it by applying the methods used by business corporations to achieve the same end. Planned spending makes savings more likely and more systematic, and less liable to cut into what are really desirable and essential expenditures.

A fallacy commonly believed is that a child must have certain infectious diseases, anyway, and the earlier the better. As a matter of fact, there is no such necessity and there is a considerable disease that a child is not much better off without. There is the possibility that the child will not recover and unfortunate consequences of contagious diseases may last a lifetime.

However great your children's ambition and enthusiasm (in anticipation) for garden work, it is urged you see that the child's first garden is small; and to confine the planting to two or at most three kinds of plants. This is not because more than two or three kinds cannot be properly taken care of by children, but because it is important to keep effort much below the limits of capacity, both mental and physical. Remember that children tire easily and if their gardens are to be a success they must not overtax these young enthusiasts.

For the summer months the wise parents plan clothing that is cool, attractive and serviceable for the children. A change of scene in summer is good for any family. Clothes for such a sojourn should be simple, washable and of sufficient quantity to insure neatness and comfort. They may be made at home at little expense and with a minimum of effort.

Whenever a house is being looked over for safety's sake, the stairs come to the foreground for consideration. They need to be well lighted, as do all other parts of the house. A switch at the head and foot of the stairways is an excellent investment. Children can be taught when quite young to make use of the lighting facilities. The buttons which control the lights should be placed low enough for children to reach.

Best Fish

The cod is the most useful fish. Its food value is high; it yields valuable cod-liver oil and kelp. Cod is best, too, when mixed with certain plants and fed to cows, greatly increases the milk yield.

Sleeveless vests, worn with tailored skirts are new and accepted sports style. One popular vest is Marcel Roché's dark blue model with waist-cord opening. The blouse is natural-colored shantung.

OUR DAILY PATTERN

A Stylish Gown for the Woman of Mature Figure

5937. Dotted silk with facings of crepe in a matched shade is here portrayed. One could use Canton crepe in navy blue or beige with pipings in a contrasting shade. Black satin is also good for this style. The fronts outline a long vestee, finished in pointed outline above a plait section. The back extends over the front in yoke effect. The soft fulness, the yoke line is most becoming, and the small rolled collar forms a pleasing finish at the neck. The sleeve is a popular style, with gathered fulness at a narrow band cuff.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52 inches bust measure. To make the dress as illustrated for a 42 inch size will require 4 1/2 yards of 40 inch material together with 3/4 yard of contrasting material for facing on collar, cuffs, belt and vestee. The width of the dress at the lower edge with plaits extended is 2 1/2 yards.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Fashion Book Notice

Send 15c in coin or stamps to The Freeman for our up-to-date Spring and Summer 1929 Book of Fashions showing color plates, and containing 500 designs of ladies', misses' and children's patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle (illustrating 30 of the various simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

The Firm Foundation

Let the foundation of thy affection be virtue, then make the building as rich and as glorious as thou canst; if the foundation be beauty or wealth, and the building virtue, the foundation is too weak for the building, and it will fall; happy is he, the palace of whose affection is founded upon virtue, walled with riches, glazed with beauty, and roofed with honor.—Quarles.

Samuel Lerner, of the Lerner department store, has announced that he has joined the Federated Stores of America.

Miss Bertha Myer is ill at her home on Barclay Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Snyder and son, Robert, and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Davis spent some time recently in Holyoke, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Van Steenburgh and Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Van Steenburgh and Mrs. Charles Wilbur motored to Albany on Tuesday.

Joan, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Murphy, of MacDonal street, who has been ill with pneumonia, is somewhat improved.

Miss Mildred Anderson of Port Richmond, Staten Island, was a recent guest of her mother.

John T. Washburn, D. J. Kingford and the Rev. E. L. Howe of this place are attending the Episcopal diocesan convention at New York city.

Veterinary Dr. J. R. Merrick of Partition street has had a telephone installed.

A. P. Lasher and Fred Grathwohl of Cedar street have gone on business to Brookline, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bell of the South Side are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a son.

David Bell of the Saugerties High School has been elected captain of the varsity baseball team.

A. W. Bitterman of Ulster avenue has purchased a new Ford truck for his electric and plumbing business. Mr. Bitterman has also completely remodeled his place of business on Ulster avenue.

The Rev. J. Elmer Cates of the local Methodist Church attended the Kingston District Stewards' meeting held on Friday in Franklin.

Group 2 of the Reformed Church Ladies Auxiliary will hold a supper in the church banquet hall Tuesday evening, June 4.

George Carle of this place is driving a new Whippet sedan from the local agency.

Bouncing Wireless Waves

A wireless instrument which will tell an airman just how high up he is flying has been invented. The machine sends a wireless wave from the airplane to the ground, which rebounds and is caught up again on the dashboard. The return wave lights up one of a series of colored lamps according to the time taken for its return journey, and from the color of the lamp the pilot knows his height.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Reception Friday evening was good and in the late afternoon WGY was especially good in the Calliope and these programs. The west was not strong in the evening but all stations heard were clear. This morning reception was far above the average.

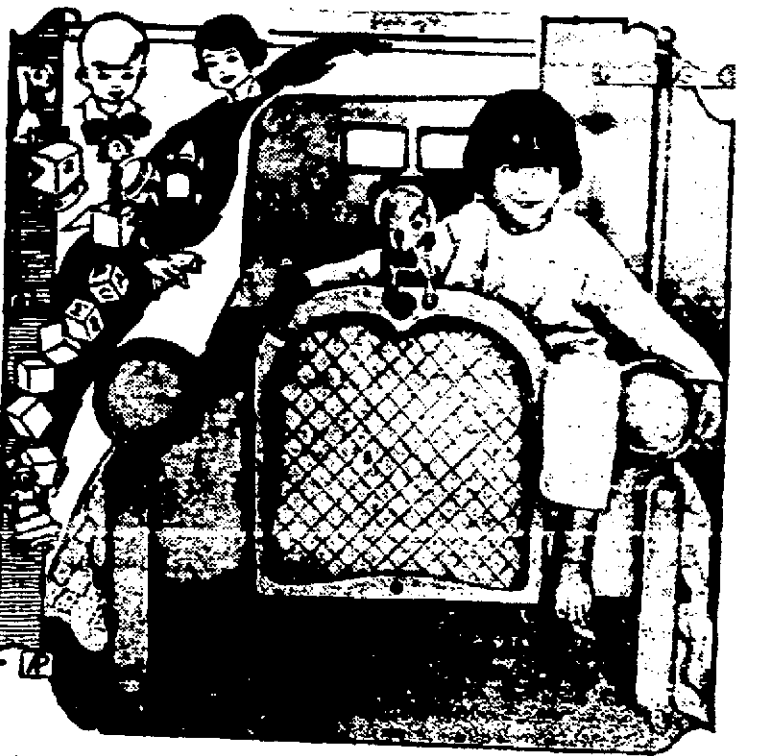

Paul Whiteman and his orchestra will broadcast their Old Gold Hour program from 9 to 10 p. m. on Tuesday, May 21, before leaving for the Pacific coast on the Old Gold-Paul Whiteman Special, May 24. As usual, the concert will come from WABC. The newly completed addition to the Atwater Kent radio factory in Philadelphia, already in production, will be dedicated Tuesday afternoon, May 21. Atwater Kent distributors from every state in the Union will be present to assist in the ceremony. There will be an informal luncheon in the new factory building at twelve noon, and immediately thereafter brief dedicatory ceremonies. United States Senator C. C. Dill, of Washington, known as the father of radio, will make the principal address. Mayor Mackey will be present and speak, as will as Mr. Kent and a representative of his distributors.

"Habanera" from Bizet's "Carmen" will be sung by Elizabeth Lenzon, contralto, as one of the features in the program of Spanish music to be presented by the 50-piece Mobil-oil orchestra under the direction of Frank Black, guest conductor, Wednesday, May 22, over WEA and 21 associated National Broadcasting Company stations. The period opens at 8.

The scenic and historic attractions of Connecticut will be broadcast in a brief radio address by Governor John H. Trumbull of that state, when he participates in the Soconyland program Tuesday evening at 7:30 Eastern Daylight Time. Governor Trumbull's talk will preface an original radio sketch entitled "Charter Oak" dramatically presenting the story of the exciting struggle involving Connecticut's original charter.

Other appealing melodies will be presented by instrumental soloists or the vocal group.

Nancy Carroll

This bit of winsomeness, Nancy Carroll, of "Able's Irish Rose" fame, was born in New York city. She is one of twelve children. Nancy started her theatrical career in a local contest staged at one of the New York theaters. Came a chance to go Westward and Nancy did just that—and since she has been one of the shining lights of "moviedom." The above is from one of her latest photographs.

Poor Man's Orchid Increasing popularity has won for the gladiolus many titles, among which, says Nature Magazine, "the universal flower" and "the poor man's orchid" are commonest. Societies are formed around it.

Why We Do What We Do

by M. E. THOMSON, Ph. D.

WHY WE HAVE NICKNAMES

NICKNAMES are uncanny. They have a way of sticking because they are either appropriate or humorously inept. It is common to call a big fellow "Tiny," a stout person "Slim," and a lanky person "Shorty." There is something colorful about a nickname. It is a caricature.

We use nicknames because we are lazy. Long names are always abbreviated: Elizabeth becomes Betty, Richard becomes Dick, and Doctor is Doc. This shortening of a name is usually a well-meaning attempt at endearment. In the case of shortening the long and cumbersome name of a club or organization into the initials of each word the object is to save time. The Young Men's Christian association becomes Y. M. C. A. There are many nicknames which please our sense of rhythm. We dislike an awkward sounding word or name and change it.

Of course nicknames are also used as a form of teasing. In such a case the name has reference to some embarrassing situation. We do it to enjoy the discomfort of the person nicknamed, to see him blush or otherwise

Voss writes from Interlaken, Switzerland, where he and Mrs. Voss are vacationing in the Swiss Alps, that he has finished his course and has received a diploma from the University of Vienna. Dr. Voss has been busy during the winter and spring studying in the University of Vienna. He finished his work by spending the month of April in the hospital as interne under Professor Porger at the Wenzelsbach clinic. While at the clinic he saw all the new tests and techniques for diagnosis of stomach diseases. He states they are working on an instrument that is in the form of a small camera on the end of a stomach tube. This is passed by way of the mouth to the stomach and photographs are made of the mucous membrane, (the lining) of the stomach. They are improving the camera and instrument steadily and there seems little doubt but that it will far surpass the X-ray for diagnosis in the stomach.

After a few days' rest Dr. Voss will visit the clinics at Heidelberg and Amsterdam and finally visit Professor Hurst's clinic for stomach diseases at Guy's Hospital, London. He will then take another vacation trip of ten days in Ireland and will sail home from Queenstown on the George Washington, June 7. While in Vienna Dr. Voss received the Freeman fairly regularly, a few having been lost in transit.

"CIVIL SERVICE" AT WURTS STREET CHURCH

Tuesday evening the young people of the Reformed Church of the Comforter will present the comedy drama "Civil Service" in the chapel of the Wurts Street Baptist Church. The play was recently successfully presented at the Church of the Comforter.

Meeting of Master Barbers

On Monday evening, May 20, at 8:30 o'clock at 13 Railroad avenue, upstairs, there will be a mass meeting of the boss barbers. P. Charles Dinert of Brooklyn, N. Y., general fourth vice-president of the Associated Master Barbers of America, will address the gathering on the topic of fundamentals of the organization, and will also give a detailed report of the legislative activities of the association in the last session of the state legislature. All boss barbers of this city and vicinity are urgently requested to be present to listen to a very interesting talk.

Chic Shoppe Window Display

The Chic Shoppe in the Broadway Theatre building on Broadway has a very unusual and novel window display. The four windows of the shop are decorated with a checker-board background of crepe paper in black and white and contrasting colors which blend in with the display of dresses being shown. This idea of decoration has been in use in New York city and Mr. Pollard, who recently returned from a business trip to New York, has adopted the idea.

Noted Actors At Elverhoj Theatre

Elaborate Plans Made for Summer Presentation at Milton—Three Generations of Seymour Family May Have Reunion.

There will be a reunion of three generations of the Seymour family, aristocrats of the American theatre, at the Elverhoj Theatre in Milton this summer if William Seymour, the grand old man of the American theatre, comes to his present intention to come over from his home at South Duxbury, Mass., and revive at Milton the Tom Robertson drama "Home" in which he played with May Davenport more than 25 years ago. Anne Davenport Seymour, his granddaughter, who has been playing in "Mr. Moneybags" and John D. Seymour, from "Flight", her uncle, are already signed to play at Milton with the young group of New York actors which opens an eight weeks subscription season there on June 17, a few days before the intercollegiate regatta.

Richard H. L. Skinner of Poughkeepsie, who was with John Barrymore in "Hamlet" and who has been supporting Blanche Yurka in "The Wild Duck" and Arthur Sircom, leading man of the Boston Repertory Company, with Ben Starkie from "Young Alexander", S. Thomas Gomez from "Cyrano", Miss Seymour and Joaquin Souther comprise the resident company.

Mr. Seymour comes over from South Duxbury, the theatre at Milton will stage a gala revival that will challenge anything that Christopher Morley has been doing at Hoboken. Mr. Seymour was stage manager for George C. Tyler more than 25 years ago. He directed John Drew, Laurette Taylor, Lawrence Barrett and Maude Adams. When he did the juvenile in "Home" 25 years ago he played opposite May Davenport, who afterwards became his wife. Miss Seymour is a grandniece of the famous Fanny Davenport, sister of May Davenport.

Maria Ouspenskaya, who was at Newport Casino last summer, will come to Milton as will Clarence Derwent, seen other years at Woodstock; Patricia Barclay, the ingenue from "Meet the Prince"; John D. Seymour; Edith Barrett; Walter Hampden's leading lady for two seasons, and several others.

Mr. Sircom will be in Kingston the coming week to open a branch office of the theatre here. The main office of the group is at the Elverhoj Gallery in Poughkeepsie.

Rejuvenation

An old man went to a gland specialist and asked how much it would cost to rejuvenate him. "To make you feel like thirty again, it will cost you $1,000," said the surgeon. "But to make you like twenty-five again will cost $2,000, and anything below that age, $5,000." "I don't care about the cost; just make me eighteen again," said the oldster. The operation was a success. But when the surgeon sent him his bill the rejuvenated one sent it back with this notation: "You can't collect from a minor."

Won Astronomical Honors

All the planets except Uranus and Neptune have been known since early times. Uranus was the first planet to be discovered. William Herschel discovered Uranus, and was soon afterward made royal astronomer by George III of England and knighted. The eccentricity of the behavior of the new planet led to mathematical calculations deducing the presence of another planet. Several astronomers exchanged data regarding its calculated position, and Galle of the Berlin observatory was the first to see the planet known to the world as Neptune.

Skeletons of Women Found in Old Church

Berlin.—In the course of renovating the "Klosterkirche," the oldest church of Berlin, the workmen, under their ecclesiastical expert, Doctor Steinberger, discovered a subterranean tomb filled with 18 skeletons of women that were identified as remains of the Eighteenth century. The skeletons were exhumed and buried elsewhere. Within the last two centuries, the "Klosterkirche," built during the latter part of the Thirteenth century, has repeatedly proved a treasure trove for historical relics.

Natural Refrigerator

Troodale, Wash.—A lava dome 2,000,000 years old is used by farmers here as a natural cold storage plant. The temperature remains from 37 to 41 degrees the year round.

Excavation Rich in Geology Finds

Camden, N. J.—A commonplace excavation for the new city hall here has developed into an interesting center of prehistoric geological investigation. Workmen at 50 feet below street level found the imprint of a strange leaf, and soon excavated more than 100 logs that were in the first stage of petrification.

Dr. Lewis Pitcher, geology professor at the University of Pennsylvania, investigated and said that the trees grew in the mud after the waters of the glacial era receded over territory that is now southeastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey. He claims that the shore line of America at this point during the glacial era was somewhere near Bryn Mawr, Penn.

LASHER—In this city, May 17, 1929, William Lasher.

Funeral from the chapel of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street, Monday at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends are invited. Interment in Wiltwyck cemetery.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear mother, Catherine Lennon McSherry: "Peacefully sleeping, resting at last. Life's weary trials and sufferings past; In silence she suffered and patience she bore. Till God called her home to suffer no more." (Signed)

FLORENCE, HENRY, ELIZABETH AND KATHLEEN.

In Memoriam

JONES—In fond and loving memory of our dearly beloved husband and father, Solomon W. Jones, who departed this life, two years ago today, May 18, 1927.

We'll never forget you, father, dear. Though you have passed away: Within our hearts and ever near. Your memory still will stay. Often our thoughts go wandering To a grave not far away. Where lies the sweetest memories Of the one we loved, but could not save.

To watch him slowly leave us, As helpless we stood by. We drained the cup of bitter grief. The day we saw him die. So we shed our tears in silence And breathe a sigh of regret. For we'll love and remember him always. When all the world forgets. BEREAVED WIFE AND CHILDREN.

THE BIRTHPLACE OF DANIEL WEBSTER

One of the most scintillating orators America has ever known was Daniel Webster. He was born in Salisbury, N. H., in the comely cottage shown above. The incident that marks Webster as a great orator was his famous debate with Hayne of South Carolina. No matter what your means and circumstances, we can offer a complete and perfectly appointed service: dignified and beautiful.

Hoover Endorses Buddy Poppy

THE WHITE HOUSE
Washington

April 8, 1929.

Eugene P. Carver, Jr., Esq.,
Commander-in-Chief,
Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S.,
Boston, Mass.

My dear Commander:

The annual "Buddy Poppy" campaign, under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, is a fitting symbol of the sacrifice of those who died in the service of our Country, and should remind us of the obligations and sacrifices demanded of all good citizens in times of peace.

The fact that the manufacture of these poppies gives employment to disabled ex-service men, in the hospitals and elsewhere, adds to the worthiness of the cause. I am glad to give my hearty endorsement to this worthy enterprise.

Yours faithfully,
HERBERT HOOVER.

W. S.-Van Slyke Defeat Cornell-Artistic Nine

The West Shore-Van Slyke combination made its initial appearance in the Industrial League Friday evening at the Athletic Field in an impressive manner, defeating the Cornell-Artistic Nine, 7-0, in a game featured by home runs and errors. The home run hitters were Ralph Williams and Emmich, Williams doing the most damage, scoring two runners, while Emmich's came when the bases were empty.

In addition to hitting a home run, Williams pitched a good game for the W. S.-Van Slyke. He was found for twice as many hits as his opponent, Waco Peters, but he was fortunate in being supported better by his team-mates. Peters walked four batters and Williams passed one.

Peters was the victim of six costly errors. He only allowed four hits, but two of them were bunched in the fourth inning, which accounted for three runs.

Ralph Williams' homer was the first of the season in the Industrial League. It was a long fly to right field. Emmich's circuit clout was a real honest-to-goodness one, landing between center field and right field.

The W. S.-Van Slyke scored three runs on one safe bludge in the second inning. Carpenter started with a single and Bush was given a walk. Baker hit to Peters, who threw to Cahill on second, but he missed the throw. Carpenter scored on the error. Bush and Baker tallied on two infield outs.

The Cornell-Artistics came within one run of tying the score in the third. After two were out Buchanan singled, Jordan doubled and Brophy sent both runners scurrying across the rubber with a timely single to right field.

Williams' homer gave the W. S.-Van Slyke a commanding lead in the fourth. It came after Bush was hit by a pitched ball and Baker had singled.

Emmich's homer in the sixth inning brought the Cornell-Artistics' total to three, at which figure it stayed. They threatened to rally in the seventh, advancing a man to second, but he was stranded there.

The W. S.-Van Slyke added another run to its total in the last inning. Ellsworth walked and stole second. He reached third on Snyder's error and registered when Emmich muffed Snyder's throw home.

SIDELINERS.

Although the Cornell-Artistics were defeated they looked better than the last time they trotted on the field.

Bill Brophy redeemed himself after he erred in the second inning by spearing Ellsworth's fly with his gloved hand.

Both of Cornell-Artistics' key-stones—Cahill and Celuch—had an off night, erring three times.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By William J. Chipman, Associated Press Sports Writer.)

One short week ago fans the country over were wondering whether the Yankee stampede was on again. Now they know.

Seven days since, the champions, riding high on a wave of hitting, were reducing the fortifications of the west as the Mackmen faltered along the line of march. The Browns not only had lost their single skirmish against the Athletics, but had fallen back three times before heavy Yankee cannonading. The Champions then moved against Detroit to put down a silly Tiger rebellion, at which moment things began to happen.

The Yankees launched themselves upon their most ambitious May losing streak since the year of Babe Ruth's classic stomach ache; the Athletics reformed their forces for a strong finish in the west; the Browns rallied, and the Tigers continued their winning spurt, just as though the Yankees had been the Red Sox.

The home fans saw the New York losing streak increased to five at the Yankee Stadium yesterday as Ed Morris and the Red Sox dropped the Champions by 5 to 3 in a twelve-inning battle. Bill Regan tied the game with a single in the eighth and won it with a triple in the twelfth when he sent two mates scampering home. Waite Hoyt conceded an edge to Morris throughout.

Bob Grove pitched the Athletics to a 4 to 1 victory at Washington and the Browns nosed out the Indians by a 7 to 6 at St. Louis. This combination of events not only enabled the Athletics to gain a full game over the Champions, but also lifted the Browns into second place, one game ahead of the Yanks and the Tigers and half a game behind the Athletics.

Old Red Faber was too much for the Tigers, and the White Sox won the second game of the series, 6 to 1.

The Harris forces maintained their virtual tie with the Yankees, but both dropped to a point one and one-half games behind the flying Mackmen. Because of the difference in the number of games played by the various first division teams, and the consequent difference in the number of losses, the games reckoning is not so true a gauge of standing as per centage. At this stage of the season a team may lead an opponent by as much as half a game and still trail in percentage, but they all play 154 in the long run.

The hammer-and-tongs brawl in the National League saw the Cubs regain the ascendancy yesterday. They celebrated their first good road trip in years by going home to trounce the Reds, 9 to 3. Sheriff Fred Blake had the upper hand at all times, and received home run support from Hack Wilson and Charlie Grimm.

Young Ray French outpointed the veteran Alexander to halt the Cardinals by a 6 to 2 at Forbes Field, and the Red Birds fell back to a position half a game behind the Bruins.

The Brooklyn losing streak was mysteriously broke in Philadelphia, 14 to 13, but grave doubt existed regarding the outcome until the last man was retired in the ninth when a Philly rally fell short with the bases filled at the finish.

The Giants had the scare of their lives at Boston, but the Braves were unable to find the odd run this time. The clan McGraw hammered John Cooney for four runs in the tenth to win by 9 to 5, for Fred Fitzsimmons, rescuer of the veteran Carl Mays of Louisville. Percy Lee Jones started for Boston, but gave way to a pinch hitter in a ninth-round rally which tied the score.

KINGSTON HIGH PLAYS POUGHKEEPSIE TODAY

Kingston High School baseball team is in Poughkeepsie this afternoon, where they will meet the Athletics to gain a full game over the Champions, but also lifted the Browns into second place, one game ahead of the Yanks and the Tigers and half a game behind the Athletics.

Old Red Faber was too much for the Tigers, and the White Sox won the second game of the series, 6 to 1.

Fast Ohio Runner

George Simpson, Ohio State star sprinter, who broke the 100-yard dash record in a dual meet with Pittsburgh, staged at Columbus, when he ran the distance in 23 seconds. Simpson also tied the world's 220-yard record when he sprinted the distance in 20.6 seconds.

Sporting Squibs

Cicero, Ill., has been awarded the 1930 Elks' national bowling tournament.

Horton Smith is said to have the shortest backswing of any top-notch golfer in this country.

Eastern collegiate boxing will be limited to six classes with no fighters weighing more than 175 pounds.

The tenth Olympic games at Los Angeles in 1932 are expected to draw entries from 42 leading nations of the world.

Bob Foster, last year center, has been moved to forward by the University of Wisconsin coach, Dr. Walter Bleaswell.

Five hundred schools have been invited to send teams to Carnegie Tech's thirteenth annual interscholastic track and field meet at Pittsburgh May 4.

Allie Wolf closed his boxing career at Penn State without losing a single decision in 28 fights. He is a two-handed middleweight, who outclassed his field.

Referees officiating at games played by the Canadian Professional Hockey league will in the future wear numbers so that the fans may know their identity.

Sunday Games on Local Diamonds

Weather permitting three baseball games will be played on local diamonds Sunday afternoon. The scheduled starting time is 2 o'clock.

The Pan-Ams and West New York Red Sox will settle a keen rivalry at the Saugerties road diamond. The Pan-Am lineup will be as follows: Sickler, ss.; Jackson, 2b.; Merritt, rf.; Black, 1b.; Cragan, 2b.; Merritt, cf.; Lay, lf.; Hoffman, c.; McGuire, c.; Carpenter and Celuch, p.

Following is the West New York playing roster: Gabriel, ss.; Cendo, 2b.; Neaf, rf.; H. Keegan, 1b.; B. Keegan, 2b.; Jardina, cf.; B. Runo, lf.; Koch, c.; Murphy, c.; Karkonic, Naimo, Smith, G. Gabriel and Stanley, pitchers. From this combination a nine has been picked that won seven straight games this year.

The frontout A. C. and Duffy's All-Stars will fight it out at Block Park. It is said that the upstarts will be the strongest nine that ever stepped onto the Seventh Ward field, so the Roadouts have a job on their hands for Sunday. Manager Artie Golasek will send Joe Coughlin to the mound with Dulin to receive his slants.

The Koenig Kandy Kids and the Clermont A. C. will be opponents at Hasbrouck Park. These clubs stood 2-2 in the fifth inning last Sunday when rain halted their fight for supremacy. Jack Dunn likely will be assigned to toss them over for the Clermonts, while Lewis, Huber or Komasa will be on the mound for the Koenigs.

The Red Sox will play at Saugerties against the Bushwicks of that village. The team will leave the Central Post Office at 1 o'clock.

RATE CARROLL AS WISEST PITCHER

Says Year or So in Minors Needed by Youngster.

Owen Carroll, star hurler of the Detroit Tigers, already is rated as one of the wisest pitchers in the circuit, despite his lack of years—he was only twenty-five when the 1928 season started—and some of his axioms might be worth heeding by the sandlot pitchers who have ambitions to become big leaguers.

"A young pitcher needs one or two years in the minors if for no other reason than to acquire confidence," says Carroll. "Minor league clubs do not carry pitching staffs of nine or ten men and when you get yourself in a jam, you may have to pitch yourself out. In the majors, the moment you wobble, there is another pitcher down in the bull pen getting ready to take your place. Naturally, you become nervous and instead of pitching yourself out of the tough spot, you become more deeply involved.

"But, in the minors, you get the chance to solve your own problems and extricate yourself, an experience that is valuable when you strike the big show. Take my case. I joined the Tigers in 1925 shortly after finishing at Holy Cross, my only experience having been at college and in a twilight league in Massachusetts. I had the stuff, but I never learned how to use it until I had been sent to Toronto for development. There, under the guidance of Dan Howley and Steve O'Neill and, knowing I would not be yanked the second the trouble clouds appeared, I was successful.

"At Toronto, I also acquired control, wildness having been my greatest fault and speaking of control, every successful pitcher learns to know which is his 'control ball' and depends upon it in the pinches. Use the other stuff when you are ahead of the batter."

ANCIENT ROCKS GIVE US BEARS

GIVE UP PEARLS

Found in 25,000,000-Year-Old Fossils.

Berkeley, Calif.—First verification has just been made of the fact that ten pearl-like foss. s found by geologists of the University of California recently in rocks laid down about 25,000,000 years up, are real pearls, conforming in structure with the modern variety, and having as their source mollusks related to the pres-

The pearls were found by Prof. N. E. A. Hinds and R. D. Russell, graduate student, of the department of geology at Berkeley. They were uncovered while the university men were searching for fossils of the cretaceous period in the banks of Oak Run Creek, five miles northeast of Millville, and twenty miles from Redding, Calif.

material from the time when dinosaurs were making their last stand on earth, winged dragons or pterosauria were flying over the land, and birds that were half reptile were swimming in the sea, the pearls still maintained a title of their luster, and mollusk shells in which they may have been formed are clearly recognizable in the surrounding rock.

musell ground one to powder and sectioned another for examination under the microscope. The mollusk that probably formed the pearls is shown as the Inoceramus, a distant relation of the present-day pearl-forming mollusks, which are incorrectly called oysters.

Russell explains that mention of such finds is extremely rare in geological literature. Some years ago it was reported from England.

the same mollusk and the same period in the earth's history. One also is found by Stanford geologists in the lower Sacramento valley, though less representative of a later period. The other has been reported from Texas.

In size the pearls found by the divers of California men vary in size from three-sixteenths to five-sixteenths of an inch in diameter. The shell of the mollusk found on the coast originally about nine inches and inches across.

America Leads Nations in Aircraft Production

Washington.—The United States leads all other nations in production of aircraft during 1928, according to figures made public by the Department of Commerce.

Great Britain, however, and prob-

Aircraft production in the United States conservatively was estimated 4,000, whereas, according to reliable estimates, the report said, France produced 1,440, Italy 475, Germany 300, and Switzerland 25. Aeronautical exports from this country last year totaled $3,714,423, virtually equal to the total air-of exports from the United States in the three preceding years. Great Britain's aeronautic exports totaled $4,700, as against $9,222,540 in the total of aeronautic exports to France has not been reported. It is believed to have exceeded total of $8,000,000 for 1927.
